With you ALL THE WAY

Back in mid 2019 we shared our new purpose with friends and business partners. To be honest, it was more of a promise than a purpose. A promise that underscores our commitment to employees, distributors, suppliers, the environment, communities and the journeys and dreams of anyone wearing one of our garments.

It's fair to say the world has changed since then. But what hasn't changed is the need to be with you all the way. In fact, it's needed now more than ever.

So we're sticking with it. We're sticking with our lofty goal of always trying to do the right thing. Not the easy thing or the most profitable. But the right thing.

We're with you all the way.

TALE OF A KIWI FAMILY

It's 1966. In downtown Auckland, Grandpa started making clothing. The centre of our world was a tiny warehouse, upstairs on Queen Street. There was a cutting table, some racking for fabric and a few shelves for finished garments. Luxury was a kettle and jar of instant coffee. There was no fridge for the milk, so it didn't really matter how you liked it. If you visited, your coffee was served black and strong.

We may have been tight on space. We may have been surrounded by more mess than we liked. But creativity and quality was never stifled. Pretty soon we began to build a reputation for high quality childrenswear.

Back then we were known as Banbury Cross. As the family grew, so did the range. We got into adult clothing and that seemed to work, so we stopped making the childrens clothing. This adult range was under the Aurora brand.

Hoodies came into fashion so we got into those. But you know these modern generations and their weird names. So pretty soon, we had a brand called Cloke too.

It wasn't all smooth sailing and there were some tough times. But families are pretty good at knuckling down, so that's what we did. We still have a warehouse in Auckland, even if that tiny space on Queen Street is long gone. The Aurora brand has gone too. Everything is branded Cloke as that weird name just kind of stuck. If you visit us today, you'll need to come down to Invercargill where the head office is. Also, we have a fridge now, plus a fancy coffee machine. Just don't ask Grandpa how it works.

In stock & READY TO BRAND

Cloke garments are stocked in Auckland & Invercargill warehouses. It's (mostly) all available for overnight delivery to wherever you are in New Zealand. There's no minimum order, so it's easy to get that extra garment for the new team member or colleague.

We don't simply supply blanks. We provide garments 'ready to brand'. The difference is in the materials and design. Everything has been crafted to create a canvas that's designed to be embellished. They're designed to take prints and be embroidered. They're designed to look good and last. You might not see the difference when you open a box of Cloke garments...but you'll see it when you brand them.

ETHICAL MANUFACTURING

The apparel industry is incredibly complex. Your garments will go on a long journey, from a field of cotton waiting to be picked, a paddock full of merino sheep needing shearing, or from the incredibly complex machinery required by man-made yarns. The process involves many relationships, spanning multiple continents, languages and cultures.

It gets even more complex when you do it the right way. For us, that means an emphasis on the ethics and sustainability of our supply chain.

Our factory code of conduct is based on the 12 principles set out by the WRAP Organisation (Worldwide Responsible Accreditation). These principles include the prohibition of forced labour, child labour, abuse, discrimination; and ensure fair compensation, working hours, environment, and health and safety. We believe a factory should not only meet these standards 'on paper' but that a culture of care should exist top down.

For further information, visit www.cloke.co.nz/ethical-manufacturing.

Jackets

& OUTERWEAR

These jackets will keep you warm. They'll keep you dry and comfortable. Above all else, they'll keep you looking good for a long time.

3-LAYER
SOFTSHELL

3-Layer Softshell

The ultimate in versatility. Water resistant, breathable and wind-blocking.

HYBRID
OUTER

Hybrid Outer

Woven face laminated to a knitted backing improves durability and warmth while retaining the comfort and style of a lighter fabric.

WATER
RESISTANT

Water Resistant

Reflects the weight of water the fabric will stand. The higher the number, the more water resistant. (excludes seams)

STRETCH
FABRIC

Stretch Fabric

4-way stretch for comfort and freedom of movement.

EMBROIDERY
ACCESS

Embroidery Access

Concealed embroidery access means your logo not only looks great on the outside, but the backing is concealed behind the jacket lining.

INSULATION

Insulation

When you're serious about warmth. Poly fill insulation between the outer and lining traps air while remaining lightweight enough for everyday wear.

BREATHABLE

Breathable

The higher the rating, the faster moisture is conducted away from the body.

CUSTOM
ZIP PULLER

Custom Puller

This garment can be customised with alternative zip pullers.

Most Cloke jackets can be customised by adding contrasting zip pullers.

12 colours are available, with no minimum order.

Match your zip puller to your logo for a subtle yet sophisticated look.
